

Wecome to our demo

To access both the front and backend as super administrator please use the following information:

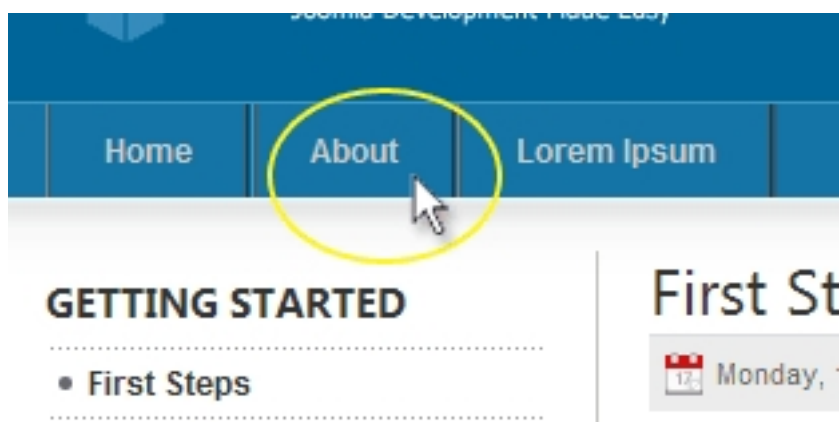

- user: admin
- password: wysiwyg

Go to administrator

Some features have been turned off so you can't break things, please play nice
Welcome to your new Joomla Package!

Before we get started we'd like to introduce you to the frontend interface because in this package we've added a couple things that should help your development out.

We've created a main menu for you with three content items, home, about, and lorem Ipsum. Use home and about for your own site. Just replace the content in each of those articles with your own (usually sites have home and about pages). The lorem Ipsum is for your site development purposes. Lorem Ipsum is actually latin text that most people can't read, so it is used in publishing to be place holders for the actual content. It just gives you a chance to figure out how everything will look before you actually write a single line of text.

Home

Written by Administrator

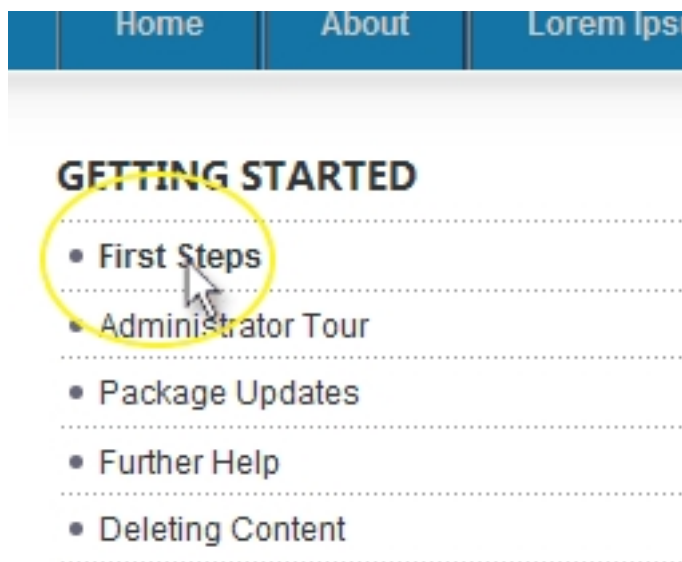

Wednesday, 29 October 2008 18:28 - Last Updated Sunday, 10 January 2010 02:52

You're on the home page now. The about page tells you what you have in this package. We have a couple different packages, its always good to know what you downloaded and installed is what you wanted.

First Steps

□

There's no point in introducing this package any more. The best thing for you to do right now if you are just beginning with Joomla packages is take the time to get acquainted with the system. We put together a super short tutorial on how to do this, we called it "Getting Started". Just click "First Steps" on the left hand navigation.

Thank you for trusting Joomla Packages for your Joomla Development Project!

□
